I agree to abide by the rules of the club. A brief summary of some rules follow, but the full rules apply:-

- I understand that my club seagoing activities are entirely at my own risk.
- I have paid, or will pay, a £60 booking deposit to the club before I attend any trips, and this is forfeit if I do not pay for a trip I have booked. Any amount above £60 will still be owed by me to the club or other party concerned. Unused deposit is refundable if I leave the club.
- I agree that by verbally booking a trip I am committed to pay for it, no matter what my reason for cancellation, but I can sell my booking to another member. I understand that if I ask to be 'provisional' for a trip, this is an expression of interest only and neither the club nor I am committed to my booking at that stage.

I agree you may use my personal details (phone no. and email address) for the purpose of ASAC communication, and this information may be made available to other members solely for this purpose. Members home address details are communicated only to club committee. (please tick this box)
